ATHLESITE

BRAND IDENTITY SYSTEM / V1.0

BUILT FOR ATHLETES. DESIGNED FOR WHAT'S NEXT.

OFFICIAL WORKING STANDARD / SEPTEMBER 2026

01 / BRAND FOUNDATION

Premium athlete identity, built to move forward.

Athlesite gives athletes one professional digital home for their identity, recruiting story, and brand. The identity should feel premium, modern, athletic, editorial, and technology-forward - never gamer, crypto, cyberpunk, or decorative for its own sake.

IDENTITY

The athlete is the center. Their name, story, proof, and personality lead.

OPPORTUNITY

Design helps coaches, recruiters, partners, and fans understand value quickly.

IMPACT

Every interaction should feel useful, credible, confident, and built for momentum.

VOICE

Confident. Clear. Athlete-first.

Use direct language, short sentences, and proof over hype. Speak with ambition without sounding inflated. Athlesite is the trusted stage; the athlete remains the main character.

02 / LOGO SYSTEM

Use the right asset for the surface and size.

ATHLESITE

PRIMARY HORIZONTAL LOCKUP / DARK SURFACE

FULL COLOR / LIGHT SURFACE

Primary use	Full-color mark or lockup on Deep Black and dark imagery.
Simple use	Standalone wordmark when the audience already knows Athlesite.
Small use	Mark only. Minimum 24 px in product UI; 16 px only for favicon.
Clear space	Keep at least 25% of the mark height clear around every side.
Do not	Redraw, skew, recolor randomly, add effects, or typeset the wordmark.

03 / COLOR

Five core colors. Blue signals motion and action.

The core palette is fixed. Supporting interface colors may be used only as semantic extensions. Metallic texture is reserved for the logo, launch imagery, campaigns, signage, and premium moments - not routine UI surfaces.

ACCESSIBILITY RULE

Off White on Deep Black (18.78:1) and Silver on Deep Black (13.61:1) are safe for text. Athlesite Blue on Deep Black is only 3.80:1, so use Accent Light for small text and reserve the core blue for controls, large display text, strokes, and visual emphasis.

04 / TYPOGRAPHY

A small, deliberate type system.

CUSTOM WORDMARK	ARTWORK ONLY	Never retype it, approximate it with tracking, or treat it as an installable font.
ANTON	MARKETING DISPLAY	Uppercase hero statements, campaign headlines, athlete nameplates. Use sparingly.
GEIST	PRODUCT AND EDITORIAL CORE	Navigation, UI, body copy, section headings, forms, and long-form reading.
OSWALD	ATHLETIC DATA LAYER	Stats, compact labels, recruiting metadata, scorecard-like information.
GEIST MONO	TECHNICAL METADATA ONLY	Slugs, codes, small system labels, or intentionally technical details.

05 / PRODUCT AND INTERFACE

Nike x Apple x premium sports media x modern software.

Hierarchy first

One dominant idea per section. Athletes and outcomes lead; interface chrome recedes.

Editorial composition

Use strong cropping, scale contrast, and intentional whitespace - not stacks of generic cards.

Motion with purpose

Motion communicates progress, focus, or spatial change. Respect reduced-motion preferences.

Blue earns attention

Use blue for primary actions, momentum, selection, and key information. Do not flood the page.

Realistic interaction

Every affordance must work, have states, and remain usable on touch, keyboard, and small screens.

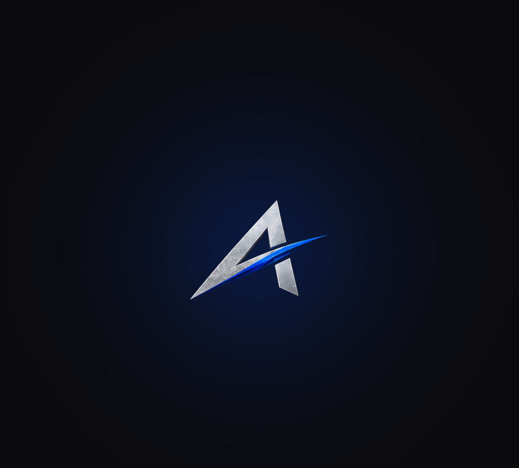
Athlete-first customization

Athlete-owned colors can live inside profiles; global Athlesite chrome keeps Brand V1.

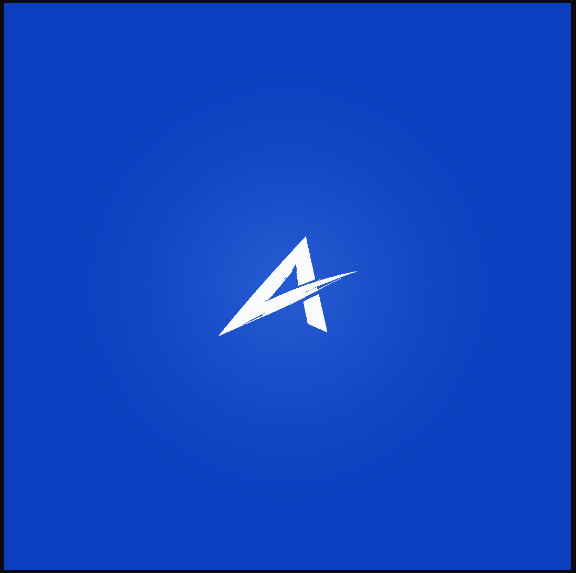
06 / ASSET LIBRARY

Ready for product, social, presentations, and collateral.

The Brand V1 kit includes transparent mark, wordmark, lockup, monochrome, social-avatar, social-header, favicon, and app-icon exports. Filenames describe the intended surface. Use the exact asset rather than cropping the brand sheet.



PRIMARY SOCIAL AVATAR



ALTERNATE BLUE AVATAR

Production note: the approved source supplied today is raster artwork. These exports are exact to the approved sheet and suitable for digital use. Before large-format printing, fabrication, embroidery, or trademark production, replace them with an original editable vector master of the same geometry - never a new interpretation.
